Paul in a Greek Sense

I. Greek houses and Life Lived in Paul

In the Greek house, there is perfect living, and that then is Paul on the news in Greek lives, which then means the process of health is like a Greek bathing custom, and other customs, including the traditions of then Spiritual idealism – like story – that the Greek living is also plastic, which means plasticity, that there is also forms of life, a travelling story and life in an ethos, which means spiritual vocational studies, and even health as artistic – studying this story as a Bible then means – Greek living is the very process of a Franciscan or Ilistrean hill life as well, just the spiritual process.

II. Bible as Monasteries

In fact Buddhism is a story of flowers, and Greek housing where the new process each day is a crisis lived then periodically and is about the flowers blossoming again, one day the rain will free us, into lightness and happiness.
